

Friday 17 July | 15:15-16:45

Oral presentations XII: Developments in Public Health; Digital Public Health Education and Competencies

Student Competency Development during the Practicum: Informing the Advancement of the Public Health Practitioner Role in Ireland - N. Cummins

Foundations of leadership for early-career public health researchers: integrating transformative leadership into doctoral training - I. Montagni

Evolving Challenges in Architecture and Health: a worldwide overview of the educational training courses for new perspectives in public health - A. Brambilla

Public health expertise in health impact assessment: competencies and curriculum development across the European region - E. Haverinen-Mottaghi

Health Information Integrity Strategy (HIIS): A Case Study for Integrated Public Health Competencies - E. Fisher

Reshaping a master's program in medical informatics to train learners for careers as health data architects - S. Pelissier

Training gaps in digital public health education: are European providers, formats, and curricula keeping pace? - D.H.A.A.W. Siti

Preparing the Future Public Health Workforce: A Delphi Study on the Integration of Digital Public Health and Artificial Intelligence in Public Health Education - R. Hrzic

Implementing AI-Driven Adaptive Learning in Public Health Data Science Education: The DU PHDS at Isped - G. Diallo