

Thursday 16 July | 15:15-16:45

Oral presentations III: Skills and Competencies for the Public Health Workforce: Professionalising Public Health

A process of developing core competencies in public health master's programs by the Network of Excellence for the Training of Public Health Specialists in West Africa (REFSAO) - A. Alioum

Building Tomorrow's Public Health Workforce: A Competency Driven Partnership Education Model Strengthening the Academic–Practice-based Interface to Drive High-Quality Evidence Informed Public Health - E. Wilson

Aligning Skills with System Needs: A Theory-Driven Approach to Professionalising the Primary Care Workforce - D. Ghirardini

Professional identity formation in public health residents: participation in the vast landscape of practice – N. Taks

A milestone for public health graduates in Poland: regulating the prevention specialist as a medical profession – M. Kozela

Turning Strategy into Structure: Professionalizing the Public Health Workforce in Europe - D. Relic

Thirty Years of tropEd: A Critical Reflection on the Evolution of a Global Public Health Higher Education Network - K. Gross

Building Capability and Culture for Equity in Learning Health Systems: Using a Co-Creation Approach to Doctoral Training - N. Messerli