Thursday 16 July | 15:15-16:45

Poster presentations II

Knowledg3xchange: A Model for Embedding Language, Diversity and Practice-Science Dialogue in Health Care Curricula – P. Romaniuk

Public health competencies in a digitalized society – examples of theory, practice and generic skills - V. Larsson

Preparing the Public Health Workforce for Digital Transformation: A Qualitative Study of Curriculum Integration Challenges and Enablers – R. Hrzic

From Workshop to Curriculum: Operationalising Digital Public Health in European Education - E. Albanese

Designing a Practice-Oriented Digital Public Health Module: Data, Ethics, and Decision-Making in Hybrid PBL Formats - A. Konieczna

Technical skills and artificial intelligence in public health education: a proposal based on three complementary elective courses - M. Brancewicz

Teaching Data and Network Visualization to Strengthen Systems Thinking in Public Health - E. Metz

How to apply the Universal Design for Learning guidelines to an online postgraduate health protection curriculum - J. Arnott

From curiosity to competence: a practical workshop model to build generative artificial intelligence skills for vaccination communication in public health - F. Baglivo

An International, LLM-Enabled Dictionary and Thesaurus for Artificial Intelligence in Health - R. Topor-Madry

The application of artificial intelligence by undergraduate and master's students at the Faculty of Medicine in Skopje, North Macedonia – M. Stojchevska

Modern Challenges for Public Health Specialists: The Depiction of Health-Related Factors in Posts by the Most Popular Lithuanian Influencers on Social Networks - R. Basijokas

Telehealth Innovation and Capacity Building in Developing Countries: A Pilot Intervention in Yemen - A. Bagahizel

How to implement the multi-actor approach to deliver a practice-based, workforce-aligned health protection curriculum - J. Arnott

Bridging curriculum and workplace practice in public health training: an audit and feedback study in Italy - F. Tecchio

Kn

Modernising European Training Requirements for Postgraduate Medical Specialist Training in Public Health: Aligning Competencies with Contemporary Public Health Practice - L. Delak

Professionalization of the prevention specialist profession in Poland: new legal framework and career prospects for public health graduates – M. Brancewicz

The profession of prevention specialist – new perspectives for education in the field of public health in Poland - K. Zdunek

Implementing Health Education in Polish Schools: Evidence from a Regional Teacher Training Programme - E. Chawłowska

A New Job Profile of Infection Control Nurses Working in Public Health Services. Development Trajectory and Content - S. Noorland

Primary Care Workforce Shortage and Career Intentions among Italian Medical Students: A Cross-Sectional Study - A. Ivan

Development of healthcare workforce competencies through institutional training programmes: the role of the Medical Directorate in an accredited private hospital - N. Navidfar